4 JUDGE ANGEJA: We are now on the record in the 5 Office of Tax Appeals oral hearing of appeal of EMA Design 6 Automation, Case ID 18114022. I know she just said it, 7 but I have to put it on the record. We are in Cerritos, 8 California. The date is Thursday, December 19th. The 9 time is approximately 1:48.

10 My name is Jeff Angeja. I will be the Lead
11 Administrative Law Judge for this hearing. My fellow 12 co-panelists today are Andrew Kwee and Mike Geary.

13 Appellant, could you identify yourself for the 14 record.

15 MR. RAYMOND: I'm Paul Raymond. Last name
16 spelling is R-a-y-m-o-n-d.

17 JUDGE ANGEJA: Thank you.

18 And for CDTFA?

19 MR. SMITH: I'm Kevin Smith, and to my left is 20 Monica Silva, and to her left is Lisa Renati.

21 JUDGE ANGEJA: All right. Thank you.

22 And we had agreed previously this appeal involves 23 one issue which is whether Appellant is entitled to relief 24 from the liability based on prior audit advice. That's 25 still correct, I believe.

1 MR. RAYMOND: Correct.

2 JUDGE ANGEJA: And during our prehearing 3 conference the parties agreed to the admission into 4 evidence of Appellant's Exhibits 1 through 4 -- my order 5 had a typo in it. We tried to correct that with the 6 binder -- and CDTFA's Exhibits A through J. Neither party 7 had any objections to the admission of those exhibits at 8 that time. If that's still the case, all right, then I 9 hereby admit those exhibits.

10 (Appellant's Exhibits 1-4 were received
11 in evidence by the Administrative Law Judge.)

12 (Department's Exhibits A-J were received in 13 evidence by the Administrative Law Judge.)

14 JUDGE ANGEJA: Subsequently, Appellant submitted 15 the declaration page under penalty of perjury for 16 Ms. Sherry Wacht, which appends to Exhibit 1, but for ease 17 of reference, we marked it as Exhibit 5.

18 Does CDTFA have any objection?

19 MR. SMITH: No. We do not object.

20 JUDGE ANGEJA: All right. Then we will admit 21 Exhibit 5.

22 (Appellant's Exhibits 5 were received
23 in evidence by the administrative Law Judge.)

24 JUDGE ANGEJA: That takes care of all the 25 exhibits. And then based on the last e-mail from 1 Mr. Raymond, there are no witnesses today?

2 MR. RAYMOND: Correct, Your Honor.

3 JUDGE ANGEJA: And CDTFA has none?

4 MR. SMITH: Correct.

5 JUDGE ANGEJA: So we will only have arguments
6 today. And then as we agreed, based on the prehearing 7 conference and the subsequent e-mail, we will begin with 8 Appellant's argument not to exceed 20 minutes or so. And 9 the judges may ask questions. And CDTFA will make its 10 presentation not to exceed 15 minutes. The judges may ask 11 questions. We will allow you a five-minute rebuttal.
12 These are not hard and fast, but that's the general 13 parameters.

14 If nobody has any procedural questions, we'll get 15 started with your presentation, Mr. Raymond.

16

17 OPENING STATEMENT

18 MR. RAYMOND: Thank you, Your Honor. Thank you, 19 as well as to CDTFA.

20 I'd like to make a comment first, and this is 21 going to sound like I'm appealing to your good side, but 22 it's my first appearance here. And I've had the 23 opportunity to watch the hearings that have been going on 24 all day. I know Amanda Vassigh from another case. I also 25 know a number of representatives.

1 And it's abundantly clear to me that despite 2 differences, we may end up on different sides of the row, 3 so to speak, meaning we disagree with the Department or 4 what used to be SBE or the FTB, the proceedings have been 5 very nice. They've been very -- they've been connected in 6 a very taxpayer friendly way, giving the opportunity for 7 the taxpayer. I think you all should be commended for 8 that. I know that's the message that you want to send. I 9 want to go on record and on camera and at least indicate 10 that as well.

11 JUDGE ANGEJA: Of all the times for us not to 12 have working microphones --

13 MR. RAYMOND: You mean this is all for not.
14 Okay.

15 JUDGE ANGEJA: No. The camera should pick it up.

16 MR. RAYMOND: All right. Well, I hope it doesn't 17 make me look fat. That's all I ask.

18 I probably would have submitted this case, Your 19 Honor. If you recall, we had the conference call. We 20 debated about the witness, Sherry Wacht. Unfortunately, 21 Ms. Wacht, W-a-c-h-t, who is located in San Diego, 22 predominantly is in New York, can't get a flight, isn't 23 going to be able to attend, which is the reason we didn't 24 have her appear.

25 I would have submitted the case, therefore, on

1 the basis of the record, in other words, without argument.
2 But I thought I would at least spend a little time talking 3 about the case, and talking about what our position is, 4 and certainly allow the Department to state theirs.

5 One of the things as a lawyer you look at -- and 6 I've been doing this for 36 years -- is you look for 7 themes, and you try and think of things that come up with 8 your case and what it's all about. And I think, Your 9 Honor, you may recall that you said you hadn't seen a case 10 like this before. And I haven't seen a case like this 11 before either. I'm assuming that the other judges are 12 familiar with the declaration of Sherry Wacht. If you're 13 not, I'm happy to read it into the record. I really don't 14 want to do that. I would prefer to --

15 JUDGE ANGEJA: No. We've got it as part of the 16 record.

17 MR. RAYMOND: Excellent. Then I don't need 20, 18 I'm doing my Chick Hearn impersonation of the Lakers, if 19 you all remember him, and I'm gonna be on the boulevard
20 very quickly. But one of the things that's a theme here 21 for us is -- and, again, I'm reminded of this too.
22 Somebody sent this to me today, and it's in light of 23 the -- regardless of your -- I know I'm going on and on.
24 I apologize.

25 But regardless of your political persuasion, you

1 know, there's a momentous occasion that occurred in our 2 country yesterday. So somebody was posting this, and I
3 thought it was very appropriate today, and I hope to live 4 through this, not just here but in my life as we go on.
5 Before you speak, let your words pass through three gates.
6 Is it true? Is it necessary? And is it kind? And I 7 think that's the theme we want to promote here.

8 I -- I can't read the mind, as Gordon Lightfoot 9 would say, of what the prior auditor was thinking when he 10 inconsistently decided to give a dongle tax. Impose a 11 dongle tax and not impose a dongle tax. You all know that 12 the records got some 16 -- if I'm not mistaken -- 13 exhibits. I may be wrong about the number. That some of 14 which show that he didn't tax the dongle and some of which 15 show that he did.

16 For us as practitioners and for us representing 17 taxpayers, the one thing I hear in my office is, "I'm 18 going to follow what the auditor told me to do. I'm going 19 to reach out to that auditor, which Sherry Wacht did in 20 this case. In fact, Sherry Wacht reached out to the Board 21 as it was and asked for something in writing. And, of 22 course, the Board responded in December of that year and 23 said, "Well," -- maybe it was January.

24 They said, "You know, you have to rely on what 25 the auditor says," which is part of our argument as I

1 mentioned at the prehearing conference, Your Honor, which 2 is -- maybe it qualifies as written advice. Maybe it 3 doesn't. It's close. Admittedly it's not the controlling 4 issue. The controlling issue is the reliance on what the 5 statements that were made by the auditor indicated.

6 And I just -- I don't think it's a case of he 7 said, or she said, because, unfortunately, that auditor is 8 no longer with us. I think that auditor, hopefully, 9 could -- if he was here, he could explain why he was 10 inconsistent. We can sit back and use hindsight and 20/20 11 and all that good stuff and say, "Well, he did it this way 12 because, and he did it this way because."

13 And to be honest with you -- and this is one for 14 you, as I'm looking at the reporter -- it reminds me of a 15 Ouija board. The spelling on that, I can't help you. But 16 I can tell you that it -- and I'll bring it in in more 17 context -- it, kind of, reminds me a little bit of Carnac 18 the Magnificent. And I don't see anybody who even has a 19 remote recognition of who that was.

20 It was Johnny Carson. This gentleman does.
21 Judge Geary does, and Judge -- how do you pronounce your 22 last name?

23 JUDGE ANGEJA: Angeja.

24 MR. RAYMOND: That's what I was going to say.
25 The middle Judge says he recognizes him. I'm suffering

1 from lack of caffeine. I apologize. Carnac was on the 2 Johnny Carson Show. And he would take a card from Ed 3 McMahon, his side kick. He made millions, of course. He 4 would say the answer or Johnny would say what the answer
5 is. And, of course, it was always a comic relief.

6 This is not comic relief. This is not at all 7 comic relief. What's sad about this case is that we can't 8 read the mind. We can't understand. We can't know what 9 the auditor was saying. We can look at field audits. We 10 can say that he relied on what the manual said, maybe, 11 kind of. But at the end of the day, here's what I've got.

12 I've got one witness. I've got a live human 13 being who can testify. I carried my burden of proof. And 14 I realize this is not the court of law. I realize this is 15 not something that you look at in terms of, you know, the 16 evidence code. I mean, you consider everything. It's 17 taxpayer friendly. You let people talk.

18 But what I do know is at the end of the day, I 19 think a judge or jury, if it should go that far, might 20 look on this case favorably for one reason, and that is 21 what's fair here. What's the underlying fairness here?
22 What's fair to the taxpayer if they say they want to rely,
23 like most taxpayers do, on what the government tells them 24 to do? That's where my case is. That's really all that I 25 have.

1 I'm happy to answer any questions from the Board.
2 Excuse me. My goodness. I said the Board -- the panel.
3 I'm happy to answer any questions and respond, if I may,
4 to anything that the Department says. And that's really 5 all that I have at this moment.

6 JUDGE ANGEJA: Okay. We can allow time on 7 rebuttal.

8 MR. RAYMOND: Please.

9 JUDGE ANGEJA: You guys have questions?

10 JUDGE KWEE: I do.

11 JUDGE ANGEJA: Okay.

12 JUDGE KWEE: I'm not sure if now or after CDTFA
13 is a good time to raise questions for the parties? Or do 14 you want CDTFA to go first and then ask questions?

15 JUDGE ANGEJA: Yeah. I think it might be more 16 efficient that way.

17 JUDGE KWEE: Okay.

18 JUDGE ANGEJA: So go ahead, CDTFA, make your 19 presentation.

20 MR. SMITH: Thank you.

21

22 OPENING STATEMENT

23 MR. SMITH: Good morning.

24 At issue today is whether -- I'm sorry. Good 25 afternoon.

1 At issue today is whether Appellant is entitled 2 to relief based on his reliance on written advice received 3 from the Department. We ask that this appeal be denied.

4 Revenue and Taxation Code Section 6596 provides 5 that if a person's failure to make a timely return or 6 payment was due to the person's reasonable reliance on 7 written advice from CDTFA, the person may be relieved of 8 the taxes imposed and any penalty or interest. And 9 written advice includes advice provided in a prior audit.

10 Appellant is a software company. The Appellant 11 was audited for the period of April 1, 2003, to 12 March 31st, 2006. That audit is not at issue today. At 13 issue is a subsequent audit of Appellant for the period
14 from January 1st, 2011, through December 31st, 2013.
15 During that audit, Appellant incorrectly claimed as 16 nontaxable transactions in which a transferred software
17 electronically and a separately shipped dongle. It 18 maintains it did so in reliance on both oral statements 19 and written audit schedules made by the prior auditor for 20 the period April 1, 2003, through March 31st, 2006.

21 Our review of the invoices and audit schedules
22 shows three instances in which the auditor accepted
23 transactions where Appellant delivered software
24 electronically and separately shipped a dongle at no
25 charge to the customer as nontaxable sales of software

1 transferred electronically.

2 We don't know why the auditor did not properly 3 assess these items in the audit. However, it is 4 undisputed that there were at least 14 invoices involving 5 sales of software transferred electronically with a dongle
6 separately shipped to the customer where the auditor 7 correctly concluded that the transactions were taxable.
8 We've also provided additional invoices as Exhibit J. And 9 17 of those invoices show either a shipping and handling 10 charge or shipped to address listed. Which likely means a 11 dongle was sent to the customer.

12 In all those instances, tax was properly assessed 13 by the auditor as part of the audit. In addition, the 14 invoices provided as Exhibit J show that Appellant reached 15 out in 2006 to the customers that Appellant failed to 16 collect tax from to obtain reimbursement for the tax which 17 is now required to pay to the Department as a result of 18 the audit. This shows Appellant's awareness that it 19 should be collecting tax on those sales.

20 Regarding the oral statements purportedly made by 21 the auditor Mr. McIntosh to Sherry Wacht regarding the 22 taxability of these types of transactions to qualify for 23 Section 6596 relief, the advice must be in writing.
24 Therefore, such an oral communication does not establish a 25 basis for reliance. We must look to the audit schedules

1 and the invoices.

2 While we agree with Appellant that the auditor's 3 review and evaluation of similar transactions was 4 inconsistent. We find unpersuasive Appellant's assertion 5 that it should, therefore, be granted relief based upon 6 its reliance on the auditor's erroneous conclusions. For 7 3 transactions, in the face of at least 14 virtually 8 identical transactions, the auditor correctly found 9 taxable.

10 Such obvious inconsistency would put a reasonable 11 person on notice that he or she cannot rely upon the 12 results of this audit, at least as it pertains to the 13 dogle transactions for purposes of future tax reporting, 14 absent further written clarification from the auditor or 15 auditors within CDTFA.

16 Therefore, Appellant did not fail to charge or 17 collect tax on reasonable reliance on and auditor's 18 written advice, and consequently, Appellant is not 19 entitled to relief under Section 6596. Therefore, this 20 appeal should be denied. Thank you.

21 JUDGE ANGEJA: All right. Do you want to do the 22 rebuttal now?

23 MR. RAYMOND: Respond to questions and rebuttal
24 if I possibly can?

25 JUDGE ANGEJA: Sure. Go ahead.

1 JUDGE KWEE: Yeah. So I'm not sure if questions
2 is the right word. Maybe I have some concerns with the 3 6596 reliance argument. And maybe if you could help me if 4 I could maybe list my concerns or tell you what my 5 concerns are and then give you an opportunity to respond.

6 So I'll start with -- first, with the prior 7 audit-work papers. In the prior audit-work papers, 8 there's the verification comments. And the verification 9 comment state -- this is CDTFA Exhibit I, I believe the 10 verification comments. And they state, "The auditor
11 examined the data furnished on the exempt Internet 12 transactions. The data show that all items were 13 transmitted through the Internet with no tangible personal 14 property involved, thus these allowed on the audit."

15 So, I mean, with this here -- I mean, this is a 16 quote from the CDTFA's documents from the prior audit.
17 And my first concern here, really, is that if the auditor
18 advised -- the auditor advised the taxpayer that it's okay 19 to transmit a dongle and still be nontaxable, why would 20 the auditor write in his findings that no tangible 21 personal property was transmitted for the law of 22 transactions.

23 And, you know, on the one hand you have 3 that he 24 allowed and 14 that he disallowed. This really seems to 25 suggest to me that maybe it was just an oversight that he

1 allowed those 3 and the other 14 are what he really 2 intended to -- as consistent with his comments here. So 3 that's really the first comment -- concern that I was 4 trying to get help with in understanding your position.

5 MR. RAYMOND: May I address that?

6 JUDGE KWEE: Oh, yes. Please do.

7 MR. RAYMOND: Picture this. I've got a card in 8 front of my forehead. I'm about to tell you the answer.
9 And I wish to God I knew the answer. You're asking a 10 legitimate question. It actually helps us, obviously, 11 what I'm also saying to you is we don't know what was 12 going on with that auditor. I really don't want to get 13 personal here, but maybe he was suffering from his 14 illness.

15 I understand -- and, again, I don't want this to 16 really be in the record, but I think you know where I'm 17 going with this. I don't know if he was preoccupied with 18 his health or other concerns. I don't know if he was 19 sloppy. I don't know. I can't answer the question. And 20 I don't know if the Department can answer the question
21 either because we just don't -- I don't know. And I don't 22 know if my client would know if they were here to testify.

23 JUDGE KWEE: Okay. I guess that's part of my 24 concern -- or the difficulty here because we're left 25 interpreting whether advice given more than a decade after

1 with what little information we do have. Maybe this is 2 something that might be more easier to look at or -- so my 3 next concern, basically -- it's, basically the date of the 4 audit work papers from the prior audit. So, I mean, like 5 if you go to the first page, this is the same exhibit, 6 Exhibit I, it has a date here of December 5th, 2006 when 7 the audit work papers were completed.

8 And so if you turn and compare that with the 9 taxpayer's Exhibit 2, the taxpayer's Exhibit 2 was the 10 e-mail from the taxpayer to BOE headquarters asking how 11 tax applies from the software that's transferred and the 12 dongle that's transferred, including when the dongle was 13 transferred over a month later on a separate invoice for 14 no charge.

15 And that -- interestingly, that e-mail was dated 16 12/5/2006 the exact date as the completion date for the 17 audit file, and it was transmitted -- the e-mail was 18 transmitted at 5:54 p.m. So I guess the concern or 19 question that comes into my mind here is --

20 MR. RAYMOND: Why have you issued -- why would 21 you issue that e-mail?

22 JUDGE KWEE: Yeah. Well, I mean, like why did 23 the taxpayer -- well, first, why didn't the taxpayer ask 24 the auditor this question? Why would he go over the 25 auditor and straight to headquarters? And from reading

1 the docs, you know, one possible interpretation is if you
2 bring this up with an audit, hey, this is a mistake. You 3 know, the possibility is you get dinged and the audit
4 liability goes up. So I -- I mean --

5 MR. RAYMOND: I see you working it a number of 6 ways, and I agree with you. Why would you -- my question 7 would be, "Why would you send that letter if orally, the 8 auditor told you that you didn't have to pay tax?" So one 9 of the things that comes up a lot with taxpayers is "get 10 it in writing". Make sure that you get something in 11 writing. I wasn't there. I didn't advise them. I can't 12 tell you what, if anything, happened at that particular 13 point in time.

14 But to me, that would be the reason that somebody 15 would do that. If I was the Department, I might suggest 16 this stuff. Well, it sounds like Mr. Raymond, your client 17 really wasn't too sure about their position. And 18 therefore, it, kind of, cast doubt as to whether that 19 statement even made by the auditor to the -- to the -- 20 Ms. Wacht.

21 And, therefore, you then reached out to the 22 Department by way of e-mail and wanted to get something of 23 that nature. I can see that being an argument. I agree 24 with that. Again, we're trying to go back in time and 25 deal with somebody who is no longer with us. We're trying

1 to go back in time and deal with someone who is not with 2 us.

3 And you can extrapolate facts a number of 4 different ways on this case. It's why -- I'm not going to 5 mention anything about the context of the settlement, but 6 I did pursue that avenue. So, you know, there was an 7 attempt made to go to that avenue because it's a mixed 8 bag. I see the inconsistencies, et cetera. I can't 9 answer the question beyond that, sir.

10 JUDGE KWEE: Okay. I guess I was trying to put 11 myself in the position of the taxpayer's shoes, and I was 12 thinking that, you know, the auditor is telling me this is 13 nontaxable. And I know these 14 transactions were picked 14 up in audit. I guess in my shoes, I probably would have 15 told the auditor, "Hey, you know, you told me this is 16 nontaxable. You should delete these from the audit."

17 That's the way I was looking at it and trying to 18 conceptualize that, you know, with an alternative 19 argument.

20 MR. RAYMOND: Could be.

21 JUDGE KWEE: Yeah.

22 MR. RAYMOND: Could be. I just -- we don't have 23 that in the record. Unfortunately, it's not in her 24 declaration/affidavit, and it did occur some years ago.
25 There's no question that it did occur some years ago.

1 But, you know, you step back, and you're left with this 2 mixed bag, which is how I opened this afternoon.

3 I -- I wish I had concrete answers. I wish the 4 Department did. I think I wouldn't be here. In other 5 words, we would have resolved the case through, hopefully, 6 settlement if we -- if we could. But it appears that 7 that's not going to be the case. So --

8 JUDGE KWEE: Okay. Well, I guess I just have one 9 thought that when I'm trying to understand how to 10 interpret this. I guess I'll just put it out there, the 11 other thought that came to my mind. When you have the 12 copy of -- this is taxpayer's Exhibit 2 -- the copy of the 13 e-mail that the taxpayer had sent requesting advice.

14 CDTFA's response said that they referred it to 15 the auditor for a follow up. So I'm, kind of, expecting 16 that -- I guess I would expect that the auditor would have 17 some type of response provided to the taxpayer. And I
18 just don't see anything in the record after this date 19 whether there is some sort of response.

20 MR. RAYMOND: We looked. We asked. We inquired.
21 We made those, you know --

22 JUDGE KWEE: Right.

23 MR. RAYMOND: Of course, as a lawyer you would 24 know that. That's what I have to do. I have to follow 25 up. Why would you send the e-mail? Why would you do

1 these things? What was the, you know, the rationale
2 behind all of these things. I -- I don't have anything 3 more I could offer you. I wish I did.

4 JUDGE KWEE: I -- I guess -- I guess I'm just 5 thinking that, you know, the taxpayer did keep this copy.
6 And I was thinking if there was a response that was 7 favorable, you know, it seems like something the taxpayer 8 would have kept, considering they kept that. And that's 9 just how I was trying to conceptualize this. I guess 10 that's not really a question that --

11 MR. RAYMOND: I'm sorry. You're saying that we 12 didn't keep something?

13 JUDGE KWEE: I'm saying that if there was a 14 follow-up response --

15 MR. RAYMOND: Oh, yes.

16 JUDGE KWEE: -- I would expect that there would 17 have been something that you kept. And that's how I was 18 just trying to conceptualize this.

19 MR. RAYMOND: Let me make it clear from an 20 argument standpoint that I'm not aware of any follow up 21 that was received by my client. And we -- I asked them, 22 of course, to search high and low for everything. You 23 know, get the prior files. Get the e-mails. Get what you 24 got to get so we can present that in our audit in advance 25 of, you know, a determination.

1 JUDGE KWEE: Again, maybe that's a question for 2 CDTFA. Don't mind me, but I have other questions here.
3 But, you know, it does say that -- the e-mail from -- this 4 is the taxpayer's Exhibit 2, page 1. It does say that 5 your headquarters forwarded an inquiry of how tax applies 6 to an auditor for response. I mean, isn't that something 7 that the auditor would have responded to? And why don't 8 you have a record of what the response was? Or is that 9 not a procedure that you would follow to follow-up on a 10 taxpayer's inquiry like this asking for how tax applies.

11 MS. RENATI: Generally, when those letters would 12 come in, the auditor would refer the taxpayer back to 13 their audit and say, "All the comments are in the audit."
14 If there was a separate letter needed, then another letter 15 would be written.

16 And it would go through the same process, and it 17 will be issued within 30 days. Then that would go into 18 the taxpayer's file. And then it would be the next 19 auditor would have it when they started their audit. So 20 they would have that information.

21 JUDGE KWEE: And did you -- did CDTFA look in 22 their file to see if there was any additional responses 23 like what would be a response to this letter here?

24 MR. SMITH: Like, in my review of the file, I 25 didn't find a response to this.

1 JUDGE KWEE: Okay. So this date here is after 2 the other audit -- prior audit was completed. So is that 3 something that would still have been referred to the 4 auditor as to refer back to the audit file? Or is that 5 something that would have come separately?

6 MS. RENATI: It would depend on the process if 7 where the audit was, if it was in a nonconcurrent status
8 or where. But the auditor would generally -- the same 9 auditor who did the audit would write the letter, unless 10 the auditor was no longer available.

11 JUDGE KWEE: Okay. Yeah. I mean, I guess this 12 is really hard because it's so far after the date that I'm 13 just trying to interpret what we have from the little 14 information available. And maybe I should turn it over to 15 the other judges to see if they have questions at this 16 point.

17 JUDGE ANGEJA: Questions?

18 JUDGE GEARY: Clarification, actually. Are the 19 parties in agreement that when the Appellant would mark 20 its software products, typically, the software itself 21 would be sent by electronic download to the customer. And 22 typically, a dongle with a security key that was necessary 23 to use the software would then be sent to the client. Is 24 that what typically happened in the sales?

25 MR. RAYMOND: I'm looking at the Department. I'm

1 not too sure if that's typical. It sounds like a fair 2 statement.

3 JUDGE GEARY: Okay.

4 MR. RAYMOND: Like, I can't say 100 percent, but 5 it sounds fair.

6 JUDGE GEARY: All right. Department, is that 7 your understanding?

8 MR. SMITH: That seems right. I guess I don't 9 know the whole -- all the transactions. I mean, there's a 10 lot of transactions here, so I don't know.

11 JUDGE GEARY: Well, the ones that we're talking 12 about, typically, those all have dongles; correct?

13 MR. SMITH: Correct.

14 JUDGE GEARY: Okay. And it's your understanding 15 that the dongles contain a security key that was necessary 16 to use the software?

17 MR. SMITH: Correct.

18 JUDGE GEARY: Okay.

19 MR. RAYMOND: And it's actually -- if I may, Your 20 Honor -- it's kind of been mentioned. I flashed on this.
21 In her declaration, paragraph 7, she talks about it a 22 little bit about the taxability of that. So I'm assuming 23 what you're saying is correct.

24 JUDGE GEARY: Okay. That's my only request.
25 Thank you.

1 JUDGE ANGEJA: I don't have any more questions.

2 Did you have more?

3 JUDGE KWEE: I think I've taken up enough time.

4 JUDGE ANGEJA: So we took questions. We didn't 5 give you the rebuttal yet. We'll give you the last word, 6 so you can sum it up.

7

8 REBUTTAL STATEMENT

9 MR. RAYMOND: I always like to have the last 10 words, but if you've been married as long as I have, you 11 find that that's a definite short coming in "mi casa".
12 Okay.

13 So I really don't have much more than to echo
14 what I have said before in terms of this case. I 15 sincerely wish we had more answers. We seem to have more 16 questions and some excellent questions as well about what 17 actually happened and why things happened. I go back to 18 what my witness said and who she is and what she is and 19 how she represents herself, from what we like to call a 20 hazardous litigation approach, which means at the next 21 level.

22 The taxpayer is paid, by the way, all of -- most, 23 if not all, the liability. There is some liability that 24 they have. So they're familiar with the next round, if 25 they choose to do that. Having said that, the last thing

1 I want to say is another message that someone sent to me
2 that I think is a good way to end it.

3 There are three ways to ultimate success. The 4 first way is to be kind. The second way is to be kind, 5 and third way is to be kind. And they were quoting Fred 6 Rogers, which I think is very appropriate. So I want to 7 thank the members of the panel as well as the Board for -- 8 sorry. I can't get out of that.

9 It's either the SBE in my head or the Board. I 10 am so sorry. The California Department of Tax and Fee 11 Administration.

12 JUDGE ANGEJA: Both they and we have no official 13 response. Go ahead.

14 MR. RAYMOND: And that's what I wanted to say is 15 thank you for considering the case as well.

16 JUDGE ANGEJA: Okay. If no one has any further 17 questions or comments? All right. Then at this point I 18 will close the record, and we will conclude the hearing.
19 I want to thank each party for coming in today and waiting 20 as long as we have.

21 Following this hearing, my co-panelists and I 22 will discuss the evidence and the argument. We will issue 23 a written opinion within 100 days, and that will do it.

24 This hearing is now closed. Thank you.
