OPINION

This appeal is made pursuant to section 19057, subdivision (a), of the Revenue and Taxation Code from the action of the Franchise Tax Board in denying the claim of Robert and Geraldine Kerstein for refund of personal income tax in the amount of $4832 for the year 1977.

^{1/} Unless otherwise specified, all section references are to sections of the Revenue and Taxation Code as in effect for the year in issue.

^{2/} Based upon a recomputation during the course of this appeal, the actual amount in controversy is $263.

Appeal of Robert and Geraldine Kerstein

The sole issue for consideration in this appeal is whether appellants are entitled to a loss carryback for a previous tax year.

In 1980, appellants incurred business losses in the amount of $14,187. Pursuant to the applicable federal statute, section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, appellants carried $5,100 of this loss back to previous tax years on their federal income tax return. Appellants also filed an amended return for 1977 attempting to carry the loss back on their California personal income tax return resulting in a claim for refund. Respondent denied the claim on the grounds that the California Personal Income Tax Law makes no provision for loss carrybacks. This timely appeal followed.

Appellants argue that a business is an ongoing entity and profit and loss are a continuing process; therefore, a carryback of losses should be allowed. Respondent counters that under California law business expenses are allowable only in the year in which they are incurred (Rev. & Tax. Code, § 17202(a)) and California law has never provided for business loss carrybacks or carryovers.

This board has previously addressed the issue of whether a taxpayer is entitled to a net loss carryback under the California Personal Income Tax Law. (Appeal of Dale M. and Mildred E. Nelson, Cal. St. Bd. of Equal., Jan. 31, 1984; Appeal of Donald G. and Franceen Webb, Cal. St. Bd. of Equal., Aug. 19, 1975; Appeal of Jorge and Elena de Quesada, Cal. St. Bd. of Equal., Feb. 5, 1968.) In each instance, we concluded that, unlike the federal tax provisions, the California Revenue and Taxation Code contains no provision which would authorize either a net loss carryback or carryover deduction. This board has no power to allow a deduction not authorized under California Law. (Appeal of Dale M. and Mildred Nelson, supra; Appeal of Donald G. and Franceen Webb, supra.)

For the foregoing reasons, we must sustain respondent's action in this matter.
